I dedicate this issue to my family: Mom, Dad, Kris, Tom, and Jenny. Their ever-present love, support, and encouragement made the last three years possible. I love them all more than I can express. I also dedicate this issue to Boyd, Jim, and Keith, who made law school bearable because they always knew when I needed a shoulder to cry on, a hand to hold, or an ear to listen. To Dave, Mary, Jess, Terri, and Eric, who continue to remain some of my dearest friends in spite of time and distance. To Andy, who saved me from my many computer catastrophes no matter what time of day or night. To Professor Harrison Dunning, who continually challenged me and who taught me everything I wanted to learn and more. And lastly, to the many people who touched my life at King Hall. I thank you all for what you have given me.
